THE WELL-KNOWN PROMOTER AD-

JUDGED A BANKRUPT ON HIS OWN PETITION. London, June 8 .- A receiving order in bankruptcy has been issued against Ernest Terah Hooley, for years prominent as a promoter in this country, prominently interested in bicycle, land and oncerns, and who was supposed to be a multi-milt-

To-day's petition in bankruptcy was made by Mr. Hooley himself, who described himself "of Berkeley Square, London; Risley Hall, near Derby, and Papworth Hall, Cambridgeshire."

Counsel for Mr. Hooley, in the course of the application for the order in bankrupety, informed the Registrar that a perfect run had been made on Mr. Hooley, and the latter, in order to protect the general body of his creditors and to prevent his assets, which counsel said were very large, from being sacrificed by a hurried realization, had adopted the course of applying for a receiving order. This, counsel explained, was done only after the most enormous sacrifices had been made on Mr. Hooley's part. Counsel was not prepared to say whether any scheme of settlement had been proposed, and he asserted that Mr. Hooley had not ersonally reaped the benefit of the large profits resulting from his promotions. In conclusion, he said that Mr. Hooley had been "victimized to an extent which will be a revelation to the public." ally Mr. Hooley was formally adjudged a hankrupt. It is impossible at present to make any correct es-timate of the liabilities of Mr. Hooley, but there is no doubt that they are very large. It is said that otions aggregating $2,000,000 are pending against him, and that one for $285,000, which was set for a hearing to-morrow, precipitated the crisis.

Mr. Hooley reached the pinnacle of prominence 1866, when he promoted the Dunlop Tire Company and was supposed to have cleared $12,500,000 by that He has since been connected with the promotion of the Bovril Company and with many bleyele companies. It is understood that none of the latter were profitable to the stockholders. In time, however, Mr. Hooley lived a sort of Monte Cristo existence, bought yachts and race horses and numerous historic country sents. In January of the present year he purchased the racing cutter Britannia, formerly the property of the Prince of Wales, from John Lawson Johnstone. In 1886 he purchased the schooner yacht Verena from the Earl of Lonsdale. He is a member of a number of yacht

For months past financiers have predicted that Mr. Hooley was in deep water. It has been well known that he had been unable to find money for

Mr. Hooley was in deep winable to find money for the hig Chinese loan which he proposed to float some time ago, and there was much talk a year ago, when the authorities of St. Paul's Cathedral accepted from him a magnificent gold communion service. Within the last month Mr. Hooley leased the big building at Pall Mall and Regent-st., formerly the Travellers' Club, to be used as offices.

The markets were not affected by the dramatic downfall of Mr. Hooley, as the news of the receiving order, while it caused a sensation, was not unexpected in the best quarters. The last attempt to float Hooley hills was a failure, although 10 per cent was offered; but it is believed that there is a considerable amount of his paper in existence. It will be the second and third class institutions which will suffer by his failure. The shares with which Mr. Hooley was connected have slumped latterly, but the London market did not take much share in the gamble. Among the more recent projects attempted by Mr. Hooley was the flotation of a Spanish loan. The capitals of the companies promoted by him aspregate from 160,000,000 to 365,000,000, and the shares in these concerns, taken as a whole, have depreciated over 40 per cent since their flotation.

The following sketch of Mr. Hooley was printed in a London newspaper in 1806, when he had at-tained the greatest prominence as a financier. "I am a countryman," he declared. "I hate town life, and I hate town sharks, with their tricks and wiles. I stay in London as little as I can, and get out of it as soon as I am able; and but for the fact that I have to be on the spot to manage my affairs you would very seldom see me here. I am, I sup-pose, the largest sheep farmer in England, and I every one of my three hundred horses by

Mr. Hooley was asked how he became a million-aire, and replied: "I cannot say that I was ever what you would call a poor man. Some people, I what you would call a poor man. Some people, I know, have an idea that I was one month in a back etreet and the next in a palace. This is allogether wrong. I come from a family of Nottlingham lace manufacturers, and when I was twenty-two my mother left me 455,000. Since then I have lived at the rate of not less than 12,000 a year, which could be hardly called poverty. I started business as a stock broker in Nottingham, and for some time made £0,000 a year. As a stock broker is got into touch with a large connection of very rich people; I secured their confidence, and they have been the great factors in the success of the big schemes I have since carried through. When I issue a company I do not rely altogether on the outside public; my own circle controls between filo.000,000 and £20,000,000 and £20, and its support insures a thing going, It is brought to my notice Humber shares, which at that time were despised at by. I looked into them, was eastisfied that they had a future and bought largely till the shares went up to 24½. Then I reconstructed the company, making 1385,000 out of the deal. Other cycling schemes followed, the biggest being the Dunlop tire deal. I bought Dunlop soutright for 20,000,00, sold them to the present company for 15,-000,000, and now they are worth $7,000,000.

"In the first place, I have no secrets; if I had I should want a staff of two hundred clerks to keep my books. I have never been able yet to keep a secret, and never will. I say that the promoter is as much entitled to his profit and his money is as honestly earned as that of any other man. When a farmer buys a cow from me, cuts it up and resells it at a higher rate than he bought he is entitled to make what he can; so am I when I huy and sell a company. I buy, say, for £2,000,000 and sell for £1,500,000, and I tell the public straight out that I am going to make something for myself out of the deal. I make it an absolute rule only to take up one concern at a time, and never to leave it till it is really on its legs. I am able to point back to all the things I have been associated with and say that there is not one of them but to-day is in a healthy state.

"The principles upon which I have acted have been two. First, I always mind my own business and look after it well. Then, I never touch anything that is out of my own line. If a man comes to me and says: Here is a good tip, act on it. I do not listen to him. I confine myself to those things which I know, and act on my personal knowledge alone. For instance, I never speculated a single pound in mines, for I know nothing of them."

TRADE TOPICS DISCUSSED.

The Board of Trade and Transportation held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Board at No. 203 Broadway. In the absence of President Darwin R. James, William H. Parsons presided. Resolutions urging the construction of the Nicaragua Canal under the auspices and control of the United States were offered by Francis B. Thurber and adopted. Silas M. Giddings asked that the Board express its appreciation to President McKinley for the conferred by him on Oscar S. Straus in appointing Mr. Straus United States Minister to Turkey, he being one of the vice-presidents of the Board. It was resolved that the action of the President be recorded in the proceedings of the Board and that the Executive Committee be empowered to draft suitable resolutions and have them forwarded to the President, expressing to him the thanks and appreciation of the Board.

Another resolution indorsing the proposition to amend schedule R of the Revenue hill by reducing the amount of the proposed Stamp Tax from four cents on the dollar of retail selling price to one cent on articles retailing for five cents to one-eighth of a cent on all articles retailing for ten cents or less, was adopted.

It was also agreed that stocks of goods in the hands of the wholesale and retail trade should be exempt from the tax, and that manufacturers of articles subject to the tax should have the privilege of furnishing private dies for printing the stamps to be used on their articles at their own expense. pointing Mr. Straus United States Minister

Haynes for $1.076 and the F. J. Newcomb Manu-facturing Company for $1.541, and a keeper was placed in charge of the store. The attachments were granted on the ground that it is a foreign corporation. It was incorporated under New-Jersey laws in March, 1882, with a canital stock of $11,200, with Max Williams as president and manager. Business has been dull for some time, and in con-sequence payments were reported slow.

BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT PROSPECTS. Those interested in Brooklyn rapid transit admit that the Court of Appeals decision in favor of the company in the Bridge loop injunction suit is of great importance to them, as the case involved several points, any one of which, if decided adversely to the company, would have interfered seriously with the plans of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit management. PUBLIC LIBRARY TRUSTEES' MEETING. The regular June meeting of the Public Library Trustees was held yesterday afternoon at Astor Library, John Bigelow presided, and after the routine business had been transacted Dr. Billings made a report of the gifts to the library within the last month. The most noteworthy of these was from the Australian colony of Victory. The Secretary for Mines and Water Supply in that colony has sent 14 volumes and 149 pamphlets on the work of his department, and the president on the work of his department, and the president of the Legislative Council has forwarded the complete file of the Council's records from the foundation of the colony in 1836. A special vote of thanks was passed for these documents. The trustees are making a special effort to collect such decuments from the British colonies, and several smaller gifts in this department have been received.

Among those present at the meeting were Samuel P. Avery, Andrew H. Green, Daniel Huntington, Edward King, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Alexander Maitland, Stephen H. Oiln and George I. Rives, The next meeting will be held on the third Wednesday in October.

RUGS AT REASONABLE PRICES.

The sale of Oriental rugs begun on Tuesday in the Fifth Avenue Auction Rooms, No. 238 Fifthave., was continued yesterday afternoon, and the same reasonable prices prevailed as on the pre-ceding day. Among the large rugs were Kazake, Cashmeres, Shirez rugs, Khiva Bokharas and Bag dads. They were of all widths, and ranged in length dads. They were of all wholms, and ranged in length from seven to eleven feet. The prices paid for them ranged from $25 to $100. The small rugs were largely Anatolians and Heloochistans, the latter including many prayer rugs. They brought from $15 to $35. Several long Kis Kellin portleres were sold, as were also a number of medium-sized Karabagh rugs, five by three feet. The sale will be continued on every afternoon this week at 2 o'clock.

The system went into effect in September, 1977, and its withdrawal leaves buyers free to purchase the product at any price, and from any manufacturer. Under the old system a rebate of one-quarter cent was allowed, but was not payable until six months after the date of each sale, and the rebate was forfeited if the buyer bought glucose from any other concern. It is said that one of the reasons for abolishing the system of rebates was a purpose to strike at independent glucose companies, the control of which the big Chicago corporation is reported to be desirous of obtaining. According to an official of the Glucose Sugar Refining Company, however, "The only reason for discontinuing the rebates is that the company found that such a system was not necessary for the maintenance of its trade." with satisfaction by the grocery trade and by users round for fault-finding with yesterday's weather. It was just about hot enough to make a cooling drink pleasant, but not hot enough to be uncomfortable. A few yards above the street level a de-lightful breeze blew, of which those persons in the high office buildings and hotels received the benefit.

SECOND SEAMAN RECOVERS DAMAGES. A jury before Justice Conlan, in the City Court, yesterday returned a verdict for $1.125 in favor of Charles Gebauer, as against Robert I. Merriman, captain of the ship Commodore Alles. Gebauer sued Merriman for $5,000 damages for injuries inflicted while he was a sallor on the captain's vessel coming from Japanese ports to this country. His is one of five cases of the same nature pending against Merriman. Gebauer alleged that Merriman beat the saliors frequently with belaying pins and other weapons. According to Gebauer's story he was afraid to sleep for fear of being killed. This is the second verdict against Merriman, the first being for $250 in favor of Carl Johnson, another sailor.

It seems likely that summer has now come to stay, and with it the time of year that most favorably impresses the imaginations of for-eigners in this city. To strangers New-York ap-pears one of the most enjoyable places in the world in summer, not so much, perhaps, because of the climate, but because of the many contrivances to mitigate the effects of that climate. In Europe the roof garden is unknown, and new arrivals from abroad are never tired of spending their evenings at one of these resorts. Then there is Central Park, which seems like a terrestrial paradise to those to whom it is not hackneyed. there are drawbacks to the pleasures of the city in summer. The chief of these to foreigners is the mosquitoes, and next to them the Aphaniptera and Acanthia lectularia (this paper is too polite to print the names in English; for translation see any But we are taught to expect nothing perfect in this world.

As was to be expected, the fine weather has resuited in even larger crowds than usual waiting in Park Row and elsewhere to read the news upon the bulletin-boards. Nothing seemed able to dampen the ardor of those persons during the rainy weather of a short time ago, and it is probable that no amount of heat in the next few weeks will dry it up. Like St. Simeon Stylltes, they re main at their posts, if not upon their posts, through all weathers.

The Board of Education passed a resolution making a requisition on the Controller for $8,000 for expenses in maintaining the nautical school-ship St. Mary's. The Board also approved the proposal of Professor Felix Adier on behalf of the American Nationa Red Cross Relief Committee for a special day to be set for taking up a collection in the form of a national offering of one penny each from all the nol children in the city. The Board referred the question to the Borough Boards to take whatever action each might deem advisable.

At the meeting of the Borough Board a communication was read from Controller Coler to the effect that it would be impossible to pay the salaries of would, in addition, have to be paid, and that would in many cases make a double charge on the educa-

HEUREAUX AFTER JIMENES.

INSURGENT LEADER WITH PIRACY. Cape Haytien, Hayti, June 8.-Much mystery was observed regarding the visit of the Dominican gunboat Restoracion to this port yesterday evening. It was learned this morning that President Heureaux of Santo Domingo was aboard the vessel, and that from here he goes to Inagua, where Señor Jimenes was last known to be.

The Restoracion left Cape Haytien before 5 o'clock this morning. Commodore Jansen, who came ashore shortly after the arrival of the Restoracion to receive the report of the Dominican consul on the alleged illegal shipment of men from this point by Señors Jimenes and Morales to take part in the landing of the revolutionists at Monte Cristi, spent the greater part of the night with the consul. The Dominican gunboat Independencia did not enter this port yesterday in company with the Restoracion, as cabled last night. She proceeded to Port-de-Paix in order to investigate the report of the presence of Jimenes at that place just before the revolutionary attempt at Monte Cristi. It is understood that if President Heureaux finds that Jimenes is still at Inagua he will make an effort to induce the authorities there to deliver the insurgent leader over to him on the charge of piracy.

To the west there is a broad outlook on the Hudson, and to the north and south Grant's tomb and the Liberty Statue are visible on a clear day. Vines and Belgan palms form the chief decoration, but the geranums and honeysuckles give promise of rivalling them later in the season.
